There are three goats, a little white goat, a big red goat and a very big black goat.

I'm going to eat you!

The three goats see a river. They see green, green grass. They like the green, green grass.

Don't eat me. I'm too small.

Wait for the next goat. And the troll let him go.

The little white goat goes over the bridge.
The big red goat goes on to the bridge.

Wait for the next goat.
And the troll let him go.

The big red goat goes over the bridge.

The very big black goat goes on to the bridge.

The very big black goat hits the troll in to the water.

And the three billy goats eat the green, green grass...
